A visual thinker of tender thoughts

Tiny Pochi is a Vietnamese artist and illustrator. A true visual thinker, with a former background in visual communication and a passion for watercolours, she now leads dual practice in both fine art painting and illustration for children. Her paintings have been featured in collections in France and abroad. She currently lives and works in Paris.

She draws and paints mostly to express how her inner child thinks and feels about the world, how it notices beauty in details and fleeting moments. Her main medium is watercolours as she is fascinated by the fluidity and versatility of the pigments and its kinetic qualities. Over the years, she has ventured out and experimented with charcoals, pastels, Chinese paints, acrylic, oil, etc. but she always comes back to watercolours. It was her first love, and still her best love. Through her poetic paintings with a focus on light and colour, she displays an intimate, delicate and tender look at the beauty of life and nature.
